Dear fishersci.com Colleague,

The SSL (Secure Sockets Layer) Certificate on fishersci.com ensures that our customers' purchasing and other communications on our Web site are conducted with the highest degree of security for safe e-commerce transactions.

This Friday, 1.11.08, we are updating our current SSL certificate. This may not impact your transactions on fishersci.com at all, but it's possible that you may experience problems logging into your account following our installation of the updated certificate.

- If you experience any problems logging in, or any other service interruptions after 10:00 PM EST on 1.11.08, please call our help desk at 877.885.2081.

Additionally, this is a good time to make sure that you are using the correct URL to access fishersci.com. It has come to our attention that some of our Web site users may still be accessing our site at <http://new.fishersci.com>. Soon this URL will no longer be available, so please make sure that they use <http://www.fishersci.com> to access our Web site.

Sincerely,

The Technical Support Team at fishersci.com
